COMMENTS ABOUT THE BOOKS....

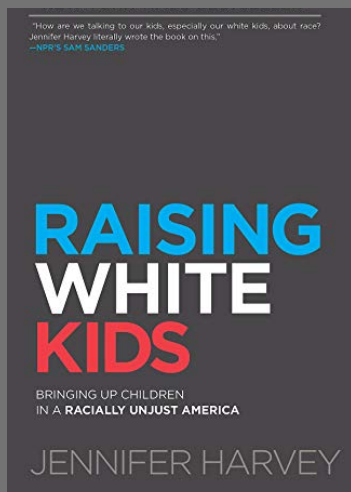

NOVEMBER

"You'll discover how phones and apps are designed to be addictive and how the time we spent on them damages our ability to focus and form new memories. You'll then make customized changes to your settings, apps, environment, and mindset that will enable you to take back control of your life - both on your phone and off." - Goodreads.com review

"As parents, we can take the guidance of this book and apply it to how we teach our kids about their relationships with phones early on so they can learn about having a healthy balance with their use." - Common Sense Media

DECEMBER

"Jennifer Harvey offers practical parenting advice designed to help parents of white kids enter bravely into conversations with their children about systemic, structural, and individual racism." - Martha Spong

"This book explains the importance of not only acknowledging race and culture but the absolute need for our white children to fully know and understand their place in standing up against racism and unfair treatment of marginalized groups in this country and world. It is an excellent, thought-provoking read." - Debby Irving, author
