Smoke Alarm Test Record

Smoke alarms should be tested every month by pressing the test button located on the front of the device. Along with monthly testing, smoke alarm batteries need to be replaced annually. In addition, all smoke alarms must be replaced every 10 years or according to the manufacturer. Write the location of each alarm in the top boxes of the form. Then every month, check your alarms and record the result. Place this form on your refrigerator to remind you to complete your monthly testing. Make this a monthly activity for the entire family.
